General information regarding Karriärum

This year Karriärum looks different due to Covid-19. Instead of a career fair there is now a possibility to book and meet up to three companies (or more if spaces are available) in shorter interviews/seminars.

Karriärum will take place at School of engineering on November 18th. The groups sizes varies depending on the companies.

Spots are limited and its first come first serve so make sure to book as fast as possible. The bookings are individual and if you want to attend with a friend make sure to book at the same time.

Make your that you look at the website to see which program matches with which company.
